

SATURDAY 19 FEBRUARY 2022
KICKOFF 4.35PM
WAKATIPU RUGBY CLUB, QUEENSTOWN

Dear Reader,

We know that you know we've been taking care of Kiwi farmers since the 1930s ... but DID YOU ALSO KNOW that we're pretty big in the security and fuel systems industries too?

With over 800 team members on our New Zealand sites (and more than 1000 globally), our solutions can be found in over 160 countries.

If you're a farmer then you'll likely already know how our smart farm systems help you. But DID YOU ALSO KNOW that our world beating security platforms look after students, office workers, nurses, doctors, patients, prison officers, bankers, miners and many, many more, all over the globe.

Be it keeping the lights on by protecting the UK's national power infrastructure, the iron ore flowing in Western Australia or providing instant lockdown at Harrisburg District school in South Dakota, our high tech access control takes care of people just about everywhere you can think of.

And we even provide fuel dispensers for around 80 per cent of fuel retailers throughout Australasia.

To say we're proudly powered from New Zealand is an understatement.

We hope you enjoy today's game!

The team at Gallagher

CEO COMMENT

MICHAEL COLLINS

Chiefs Rugby Club
CEO

Kia ora Chiefs Whānau,

We are looking forward to kicking off our 2022 Super Rugby Pacific campaign against the Highlanders.

A lot of work has gone in behind the scenes over the past months to get us ready to make a run at the title this year. While we would love our team to be running out at FMG Stadium Waikato in front of our loyal supporters, we are grateful that they can still take the field and represent Chiefs Country to the fullest.

I want to give a massive thank you on behalf of the entire Chiefs Rugby Club to our loyal sponsors, members, stakeholders and fans for your support in what has been a challenging start to our campaign. You are the heartbeat of our club and your contributions and support are hugely appreciated and widely acknowledged throughout our club.

A huge congratulations to Samisoni Taukei'aho who has been named to play in his 50th match as a Gallagher Chief in this fixture. A fitting milestone for the Gallagher Chief & All Black hooker who continues to contribute heavily to our team.

Congrats also to our new debutants named for this fixture to officially don a Gallagher Chiefs jersey for the first time. A special moment it will be for Laghan McWhannell, Josh Ioane & Emoni Narawa, go well lads.

We trust you will enjoy the match against the men from the south live on Sky Sport. Even though we run out for a 'home match' in Queenstown, we know our coaches, players and staff feel your support from afar and will strive to deliver a performance we all can be proud of.

Go the Gallagher Chiefs.

GALLAGHER CHIEFS 2022 COACHES

CLAYTON MCMILLAN

Head Coach

McMillan led the Gallagher Chiefs to 9 wins as Head Coach across the 2021 season with an appearance against the Crusaders in the Sky Super Rugby Aotearoa Grand Final.

The current Māori All Blacks Head Coach and former Bay of Plenty Rugby Head Coach, took up the role of Interim Head Coach for the Gallagher Chiefs in 2021, in absence of Gallagher Chiefs Head Coach Warren Gatland, who coached the British & Irish Lions for his third tour.

The Bay of Plenty centurion transitioned into coaching eighteen years ago while finishing playing professionally in Japan.

Upon his return to New Zealand he has held several age group and club roles in both Bay of Plenty and Wellington before taking the reins of his home province in 2015.

In 2017 McMillan was appointed as the New Zealand Provincial Barbarians Head Coach to face the British and Irish Lions during their 2017 tour of New Zealand. Later that year he was announced as the incoming Māori All Blacks Head Coach. McMillan has since led tours to the Northern Hemisphere, America and Fiji.

In 2019 McMillan lead the Bay of Plenty Steamers to victory, claiming the Mitre 10 Cup Championship title at Rotorua International Stadium.

WARREN GATLAND

Director of Rugby

The former Waikato Rugby Union head coach and Chiefs Rugby Club technical advisor returned to New Zealand to take up the head coaching role for the Gallagher Chiefs after being at the helm of the Welsh national side since 2008. Gatland has been instrumental to the success of the Welsh national side during his tenure with an impressive record of four Six Nations titles, including three grand slams, the most recent in 2019.

His ongoing success with Wales led to his appointment as head coach of the British & Irish Lions 2017 tour of New Zealand, where they drew the Series against the All Blacks. Recently Gatland was announced as head coach for his third tour with the side in 2021 to South Africa.

Gatland returns to the Gallagher Chiefs in 2022 as our Director of Rugby following the British & Irish Lions 2021 tour of South Africa.

ROGER RANDLE

Attack Coach

Former All Black, New Zealand Sevens and Gallagher Chiefs player Roger Randle will head the Gallagher Chiefs attack. Randles' coaching career now spanning over ten years, provides a wealth of attack coaching experience across both provincial and international rugby.

The Maori All Blacks and Waikato assistant coach has continued to build on his coaching resume with the Gallagher Chiefs moving from his role as the assistant backs coach into Attack Coach.

DAVID HILL

Assistant Coach

Former All Black and Gallagher Chiefs first five-eighth and New Zealand Under 20 Assistant Coach David Hill continues his role with the Gallagher Chiefs as an Assistant Coach.

Prior to signing on as Gallagher Chiefs assistant, Hill's hands-on coaching experience has included being involved with the New Zealand U20s, assistant at the Blues, Bay of Plenty in the Mitre 10 Cup, as well as joining the All Blacks as kicking specialist prior to the 2019 Rugby World Cup.

NICK WHITE

Scrum Coach

Another former player turning his hand to coaching, Nick White, was a prop for Northland, Auckland, the Crusaders, the Highlanders, the Blues and New Zealand A before retiring. From there he joined the Blues as scrum coach in 2012 which then followed onto his appointment as head coach for Auckland in 2016.

White joined the Gallagher Chiefs as scrum coach for the 2018 season. He has been instrumental in the performance of the Gallagher Chiefs scrummaging since the beginning of his tenure and will continue to hold his role as scrum coach.
